Question	Judgment
	YES	NO
The guide is aware of the difference in the perception of time between Africa and Europe or America and has therefore tried to appear at briefings according to the customs of the guests' country.
He has also appeared on time on the day of the beginning of the tour.
The briefing was clear and gave me confidence.
We are not able to speak Swahili but our guide is able and willing to communicate with us in good English.
We could observe that the crew was playing football with our luggage or handled it in another infamous way.
The food was without exaggeration good and manifold.
The food did not even one day lack a great deal of salt and after complaining about it even good very hot. Our wishes concerning the food were anyway ignored.
The crew has tried to make our time in camp as comfortable as possible- the only thing lacking being a TV Set.
We had to help put up the tents when arriving in camp.
We were keen on putting up the tent, since we knew better how to do that.
Our guide was not exactly a shatter box but always made small jokes..
Our guide had a sixth sense for our conditions and therefore had everything handy before someone could get really unwell.
Our guide could convince and motivate us even at times, when we did not want to go on.
We did not know, who was in our crew-since they all looked the same.
Our guide was able to know a cow from a rabbit.
Our guide was fed up to spend his time with tourists and made us feel that.
Not including the physical hardship of climbing the top, we had a great time.
The crew needs some help with singing- the porter's song at the end of the tour gave us goose pimples all over.
Considering the whole tour we consent that the crew should receive their 30 % of their salary.

*The whole salary for the crew of x is y USD- 30% of it is being z USD.
